Description

This is the creme de la creme of antique sewing boxes, firstly, most unusual to be in Satinwood with the fine quality all-over inlay, this work is more usually seen in Rosewood. The inlay is top-notch, created from engraved and inked Mother of Pearl, Abalone shell and fine brass stringing. The two pillars at the front have carved Mother of Pearl top and bottom, and a carved lozenge crowning the top of the lid. The box stands on six carved Satinwood feet, four at the front and two at the back. There are two turned Satinwood handles with Mother of Pearl inlay in the centre. As if the outside wasn't special enough, the interior is a real miracle, with a near complete and original set of sewing implements made from bone and Mother of Pearl, engraved and inked in blue creating an exquisite display. There are numerous cotton spools, a tape, aide memoir with bone leaves with the day of the week on the top of each, fruit knife, needle case & winders. The box has retained all the original paper lining, quite remarkable, I think that this box has been tucked away for many, many years to have remained in such wonderful original condition. Inside the lid is the original mirror su...
