Description

A George III perfume or scent bottle box is English in origin with a beautiful shell inlaid to the top, and the original English Lion's ring handles either side. The box stands on four original turned feet. Once opened the box reveals six original sterling silver (unmarked) topped bottles, each measuring just 1" square and all sitting in the original fitted interior. The silver tops have a couple of little tears, insignificant but mentioned for accuracy. The bottles are also fitted with their original glass stoppers, a couple are stuck and one would normally soak to loosen .. however, not in this instance as each retains it's original paper label to the underside. Each label has a pretty illustration with the name of the scent which would have been contained within; these scents may have been imported from France at the time or simply the French names used, common in perfumery; Extract de Rose, Extract a la Jonquilles, Extract de Fleurs d'Orange, Extract au Jasmine, Extract au Bouquet, Extract a la Violette. As charming as they come in superb complete condition, measuring 4 1/4" x 3" x 3 1/4" tall. Item ID: 33831 FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly From London...
