Description

A well proportioned and striking Early Victorian Mahogany 2 door Bookcase. The Victorian bookcase has been made from the finest quality mahogany and comes 3 parts. Firstly you have a moulded cornice which sits over two square doors with dome shaped glass panels enclosing two adjustable shelves for storage of books, the right hand door having a fully working brass lock and key. The Victorian bookcase top sits over two mahogany lined inset drawers with original wooden knob handles and two mahogany doors with inset moulded panels with fully working brass lock all standing on its original mahogany plinth. The doors to the lower section open to reveal an adjustable sliding shelf to the left with a fixed shelf to the right and single box drawer below with a brass swan neck handle. The antique bookcase is a very practical piece of furniture that has great slim proportions making them hard to find these days which splits into 3 pieces for ease of transport. The bookcase has been fully restored using a traditional French polish method and will happily grace any home.
