Description

Stunning large French figural clock by Samuel Marti c1880. ~~ Excellent condition throughout ~~ This is a superb example of a French clock by the premier clockmaker Samuel Marti who was one of the best clock makers of the late 19th century. It has the most wonderful figure of a fisherman holding a net to his shoulder, there are shells and seaweed and the quality of the casting is just incredible, the attention to detail absolutely superb. It is made of cast white metal patinated and it is extremely heavy. The clock itself is a fine piece of engineering with the Marti movement and the visible open Brocot escapement, Brocot fine adjustment suspension with a fine adjust key. There are enamel discs with painted Roman numerals and a gilt textured dial with a polished brass door. It strikes on the hours and half hours. This is one of the finest figural clocks we have ever seen and the condition is just amazing, this will certainly be a talking point. The movement has just undergone a full overhaul, clean and service so you can be assured that this clock is in tip top condition and will give trouble free service for many years to come. The clock comes with a key. I...
