Description

A superb engraved Victorian silver cream jug of baluster form. This imposing piece is mounted on four cast feet and has a delightful shaped handle adorned with acanthus leaves. The body is beautifully engraved with floral and foliate motifs and there is a vacant cartouche to the front. The cartouche to the reverse has engraved script initials (photo 3) and the interior is gilded. Condition :- Very good, with no major dents and no splits. There are a couple of minor dimples around the base area and the gilding inside is scratched, although not worn through. All commensurate with age and use. Hallmarks :- Softening, but readable. Maker :- Reilly & Storer. Height :- 16.5 cms (to top of handle).
