Description

Victorian Hat, Coat & Umbrella Stand - Base Tray - c1890 A superb bentwood stand with integral drip-tray to the base. Presented in very good condition and constructed to an excellent standard giving quality which leads us to assume Thonet although the piece is not stickered as such. This Victorian bentwood classic design is hugely stylish and offers tremendous practicality. Standing upon quartered feet this stylish and well kept item consists of a lower tray base supporting four sweeping swan neck forms and the central pole. A lower umbrella and stick hoop gives ample space and is divided to allow the separation of wet and dry brollies. The central pole flares atop to provide 6 curved cloak hooks, 6 ball ended pegs and scarf rings - this is capped by an original step turned finial. A wonderful piece of bentwood furniture that is in very good antique order throughout. It will make a lovely statement piece within any hallway, lobby, portico or cloakroom.
