Description

A superb brass cased pocket barometer/altimeter by the much sought after Negretti & Zambra. This fine collector's piece is in a leather case and dates from the late Victorian period. The case is brass and the dial measures both feet and barometric pressure. These were often used by walkers and are sought after collector's items. Condition :- Very good with no cracks to the glass. The brass has some scuffing and the leather case is slightly crumpled to the front, commensurate with age and use. It is offered in good working order. Maker :- Negretti & Zambra. Markings :- Compensated. Negretti & Zambra London 3899. Diameter :- 4.5 cms.
