Description

A heavy brass chandelier with six arms, this dates somewhere between 1910-1940 and has all the original period heavy glass drops. It measures approximately 23" (58cm) across and 23" (58cm) from the ceiling hook to the bottom of the glass ball. The actual length of the chandelier without the ball is 18" (46cm). The glass beads holding the original ball have been replaced at some time. The whole chandelier was rewired to UK specifications a few years ago. We hope to put further, clearer photos on soon, as there is another chandelier hanging at the back in this photograph.
