Description

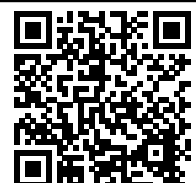

A simply wonderful Victorian Jewellery box with the most unusual carved Walnut and brass carrying handle which will either stand up or fold down flat. The box is covered in burr Walnut, my favourite timber, with beautiful graining and a deep cognac colour. The front has a shield-shaped engraved and polished brass escutcheon which houses the working tasseled key. The box opens to reveal a professionally re-fitted interior, in a deep green colour. The removable tray has a central fitting for a pocket watch, which would be equally useful for a bracelet. The front and back is fitted to accommodate rings the width of the tray. The back edge of the box is gold embossed with the English design registration date (a rare and highly desirable feature on a wooden box) for Oct 27, 1869. Superb condition in every way, measuring 10" x 8 1/4" x 3 3 1/4" tall to top of domed lid (excluding handle). Item ID: 34344 FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly From London, England
