Description

A wonderfully handsome Victorian hipflask made from sterling silver together with a removable drinking cup. Combined this is a hefty piece of silver, weighing 7.63 Troy Ounces or 237.3 Grams. It has a lovely tactile kidney shape, made to fit easily into the pocket. The cup fits perfectly and once removed reveals a lavishly gilded interior. The cap is a bayonet type fitting requiring a twist and lift action to open, revealing a cork lining to prevent evaporation of the precious contents. The hallmark is for Birmingham 1900 together with the makers initials H H for the silversmith, H Hayes. A good size, measuring 5 3/4" tall x 3 1/8" wide.
