Description

This is a genuine pair of Edwardian brass and crystal chandeliers dated to around 1910. Each chandelier has five arms, the central support is of cut glass and it retains the original droplets which of course can be removed if required. Highly decorative brasswork with acanthus leaves, scrolls and swags. It is very difficult to come by a pair of genuine chandeliers of this proportion and therefore are very desirable. They still retain the patina you would expect of lighting of this age. Each measures 16" in diameter, total depth from the bottom of the pineapple to the top floret (including the full length of the chain) is 30" the total height from the bottom of the pineapple to the hook holding the chain is 16" of course you can amend the length of the chain to suit your requirements. They have been fully rewired to UK standards. The price includes delivery to mainland England and Wales, for other areas please contact us.
