Description

Wonderful quality slim walnut bureau in good original condition, with a lovely original colour & patina. At first I thought this piece was actually period Georgian, because of the weight, construction, hardware & colour, but on closer inspection it's a good 1890-1910 period copy of a Georgian piece. Still, it's over 100 years old & these slim bureaus are quite hard to find in walnut, especially of this quality. The top & front are burr walnut, with herringbone inlays. The drawers have their original etched brass handles & escutcheons, whilst the locks are all original. The drawers are also well dovetailed & the drawer bottoms are all solid timbers. The loafers pull out to support the writing surface & the inside of the bureau is nicely fitted out with compartments & small drawers. I think the sides are solid walnut & this bureau sits on bracket feet. Like I said, this bureau is a very heavy solid piece & has lots of character. Width --- 24.5" (62cm) Depth --- 19" (49) Height --- 39" (99)
