SoldItem Reference: SA195633*Date of manufacture: 1800

Description

Antique Regency circular dining table in rosewood with brass inlay on the top & on the base. This piece is totally original & I would say it dates to around the 1810 period. Beneath the top is a well shaped central pedestal sitting on a tripod platform base. Below that are three carved claw feet in original parcel gilt sitting on casters. The circular top can be tilted or taken off for easy transportation. This table is wonderful quality & in lovely original condition. It has a good original colour too. It's almost too good to use as a dining table & would make an impressive centre table. The top is flat, no warps or splits. Please enlarge all the images. Diameter --- 50" (127cm) Height --- 28" (74)
