Description

This small antique Edwardian kidney shaped desk is in lovely original condition & these pieces are becoming very hard to find. We didn't want to spoil the originality, so it has been cleaned & polished, while retaining the original colour. The leather writing surface has now been replaced with a hand dyed tooled green leather. The handles & brass capped casters are all original. This desk is also a piece of quality, with fine dovetailed drawers, solid drawer bottoms & fine inlays all over. The polished back is finished off as nice as the front & the tapered legs are also inlaid. You can normally tell a good quality piece of furniture by the locks & these locks are stamped 'Hobbs & Co London'.
