Description

A Victorian Green Man Carved Oak Hall or Centre Table. This is an intricately and very attractive piece, of Gothic Carved Oak furniture. There is a long drawer along one side, the frieze on the other side is carved to match but with no drawer, the table has very chunky and deeply carved legs. At the corners there are carvings of lions heads or the Green Man and the feet are the heads of Mythical Serpents and a carved stretcher. The thick top has a moulded edge, the drawer is on one side only but this piece was definitely intended to be viewed from all sides. This is an unusual piece to come across and a delight to look at it would work very well as a hall table, it is in excellent condition. The table is 42" wide, 30" high, 25" deep.
