SoldItem Reference: SA206646*Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Description

The Bed dates from the 19th Century and is the same size as a normal single bed and can be used as such but its unusual style would also allow it to be used as a Day bed. The bed is very heavy and made in cast iron, it is very sound and has a wonderful and genuine antique patination. There is still quite a lot of the original cream paint still showing especially on the decorative corned panells. The bed is good and sound, with wear to the paint but you can see this clearly in the pictures. The bed is 74" long and 36" wide, the sides are 37" high and it folds flat for transportation. Delivery to Addresses in Mainland England & Wales is included in this price. Delivery times vary from 7 to 28 days.
