Description

Oak Edwardian Table - Extending 4 to 6 Seater - c1910 A very pleasing example of an Edwardian oak kitchen dining table with useful extending action. The table presents superbly throughout with a wonderful colour to the oak. A quality example with very easy extending action whereby the table converts to accommodate and extra two person in seconds. The centre leaves are un-sunfaded and therefore appear darker than the two main outer ones - see images. The piece benefits from a double refectory stretcher which provides robustness ensuring that the table is solid in use, and also acts as a footrest for those seated. Presented in very good antique condition the piece is ready to use and will look stunning in any location. The table is just perfectly sized for 4 to 6 persons and is ideal for kitchen dining purposes and daily use. The upper surface is clean with a desirable tone. The whole table has a feeling of solidity. Overall this table is a wonderfully sized, solid and practical item of antique furniture that is in very good order throughout. Delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you require further information...
