Description

A beautifully hand carved Meerschaum pipe, the bowl being beautifully created in the form of a Blackamoor Lady's head with a head scarf tied at the front, large earrings and a necklace. Meerschaum Pipes are the aristocracy of tobacco smoking pipes. Meerschaum has been used for the construction of pipe tobaccos dating back to the 1700s. During the 1800s, exquisite meerschaum pipes were produced in many European countries, including Vienna, Germany and Switzerland. I would expect the mouthpiece to be made of Amber, joined to the shank with a gold collar. The pipe comes in it's original case. Excellent condition, the pipe measures 3 3/4" long, the case measuring 3 3/4" in length. Item ID: 34793 FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly From London, England
