SoldItem Reference: SA223643*Date of manufacture:

Description

This is an early - mid 20thC beautiful Murano glass chandelier with three pale pink glass upright glass cups holding the lights. There are three long blue glass leaves on clear glass stems draping over the central column, and three that stand upright. There are also three upright glass pink flowers on clear glass stems. The leaves and flowers slot into position and all the colours match the detailed lower half of the chandelier. We have displayed it using candle bulbs, but little pygmy bulbs would sit within the upright light fittings and not show. It measures approximately 75cm in length, and 56cm in width. In very good condition and was recently rewired for the UK market. We apologise for the images - it is hanging in a safe but difficult position to photograph, and we will try and put better images on the website soon. However, it is possible to view this item in the Berkshire area. Delivery within easy reach of the M25 can be arranged.
