Description

A very unusual colour indeed, this handsome late Victorian threaded glass match strike is wonderful pale green colour. The top is mounted with a good thick band of antique English sterling silver hallmarked for London 1900. The makers initials are somewhat rubbed. A good larger than average size measuring 3 1/2" in diameter and 3" tall. Highly collectible and in excellent condition with only a couple of normal rough spots to the threaded glass. A fine example.
