Description

Original Victorian Armchair - Stunning Shape - c1870 A very desirable Victorian upholstered armchair by the noted London company Charles Hindley & Sons dated c1870. C Hindley and Sons were furniture makers of Oxford Street, London, England who traded from 1766-1898. The company (the C stands for Charles) were notable quality London fine furniture, rug and floor cloth manufacturers (Furniture History Society, Dictionary of English Furniture Makers, pp. 433 & 606) who took over the firm of Miles & Edwards, cabinetmakers, of 134 Oxford Street in 1844. Thereafter, they established trade at the Oxford Street premises where their business as high quality cabinet makers flourished, earning them a Royal Appointment, and a part in the Great Exhibition. With a very pleasing shape this quality armchair is a rare find. The upholstery is in good condition throughout and the armchair is ready for the home. Equally, as the chair is in superb condition structurally, the piece would make a fine chair for those seeking a piece to recover - certainly a chair of note and one that has the character to become a family favourite. Riding upon the original solid brass castors the chair offer...
