Description

Globe Wernicke - Rolltop Edwardian Bureau Desk - c1910 Presented in very good antique condition this is a top quality rolltop bureau from the renowned manufacturer Globe Wernicke of London. Of very generous proportion this classic item of furniture presents superbly. The desirable Globe Wernicke brand quality is evident and at over 100 years old the desk is only just beginning its life. Rising from hidden castors the bureau shows all of the classic elements of the rolltop style with field panel sides and an eight panel feature back - allowing the bureau to be placed centre of a room, or in front of a window if required. The practical nature of the desk is demonstrated with the full length side drawers - including a huge lower drawer on one side offering sufficient depth for full size files. Additionally there is a centre drawer above the knee. The desk benefits from slides at either side which provide extra working space and make a fine place to rest elbows when working at a keyboard. A tambour top slides to reveal the quality fitted interior. Internally there is sufficient height to accommodate a computer screen or laptop. A myriad of pigeon holes, cubbies, pen-...
