Description

An absolutely stunning Victorian a heavy cast copper and brass inkwell in the form of "Greyfriars Bobby". I will be leaving the story of this wonderful Skye Terrier at the end of this description. The base is created from polished brass with a thick rope decoration where the dog's head joins the base. The dog's head is absolutely stunning, beautifully executed with wonderful detailing, including his original two glass eyes, the last photograph was taken with a flash to highlight his stunning eyes. The head opens with the hinge in good working order, revealing the ink chamber within, including a removable glass liner for easy re-filling and cleaning. Excellent all round condition, with a base diameter 6 3/4" and standing 5 1/4" tall. Now for the story ... In 1858, a man named John Gray was buried in old Greyfriars Churchyard. His grave levelled by the hand of time, and unmarked by any stone, became scarcely discernible; but, although no human interest seemed to attach to it. The sacred spot was not wholly disregarded or forgotten. For fourteen years the dead man's faithful dog kept constant watch and guard over the grave until his own death in 1872. The famous Skye ...
