Description

Antique Georgian mahogany chest of drawers in good original condition sitting on bracket feet. This particular piece came out of a private residence & was in excellent condition, so we haven't done anything to it. I can see that the brass handles which look old have been replaced at some point, but that may have been done 100 years ago for all I know. The drawers are all working okay & they have fine dovetails too. I would say it dates to around the 1790-1810 period & it has a good original colour, with no splits or warps. Please bear in mind that we haven't polished this chest, so there may be the odd minor mark or scuff, but nothing serious. We will as always check it over before it goes out & polish out any obvious scratches. Width - 42", 107 cm Depth - 19.3", 49 cm Height - 41", 104 cm
