Description

A fabulous Victorian breakfront fitted wardrobe in satinwood with rosewood mouldings, fluted bands and Adams style carved panels. Of superb quality, possibly by Holland & Sons. It features a central bevelled mirror door which opens to reveal an interior fitted with hooks, shelf, slides and drawers. The flanking doors have an Adams panel to the top, a further long panel beneath edged with fluting and rosewood mouldings and with a similar drawer beneath. The doors each have brass twist-to-open brass handles and are fitted with their original 'Clarke & Timmins, Birmingham' locks. The side hanging sections are 47.5cm (18 3/4in) deep so a side-to-side hanging rail could be added if preferred, the centre section is larger at 58.5cm (23in) deep and again a side-to-side hanging rail could be added (and the shelf and slides removed). For moving and delivery the wardrobe can and will be dismantled into seven parts as detailed below. This is in very good condition, there's an old repair to the moulding at the bottom right side of the centre door and a graze to the left side of the moulding on the same door. There are very few other minor imperfections and light paint spots ...
