VICTORIAN WALL LIGHTS WITH HOLOPHANE SHADES

Price

SoldItem Reference: SA251160*Date of manufacture: Victorian

Description

This is one of the finest pairs of brass Victorian wall lights we have had in stock in our 23 years of trading. They measure 49cm in length, and the decorative rectangle section that holds the arm measures 12cm across. The wall lights come with the original holophane shades (see photo 4) The distance from the wall to the shade fitting is 25cm. They have all been rewired for the UK market and have the original backplate fittings to attach to the wall. They weigh approximately 1.9kg each. Photos 1 and 2 show the lights lit up, but they weren't fixed to the wall, merely suspended by a chain in order to photograph them, so the shades are seen at an angle. There is a matching double arm wall light which measures 70 cm in length with two identical shades and is on sale separately. Estimated postage and package costs for the UK mainland is approximately £20 because of the weight and size of the lights; and we will supply estimates for delivery costs elsewhere. Or they can be viewed in Surrey by appointment.
