Description

A rare* and very fine quality mid-19th century fully fitted LADY'S JEWELLERY BOX in immaculate condition. Veneered in finest coromandel wood, decorated with ornate Gothic style gilded brass straps and mounts, the lid is further mounted with an oval porcelain plaque of a cupid. The lid opens to reveal two beautifully fitted lift-out trays and a further compartment in the base. Each of these trays is lined in navy leather and purple velvet, all of which is original, with compartments for rings; necklaces; earrings; watch etc. As good a jewellery box as one is likely to find. * "Rare" because many jewellery boxes are converted from other boxes and later retro-fitted; this is original throughout.
