Description

Superb Mid-century mahogany twin pillar dining table. This is a superb example of a regency type mahogany extendable dining table with 2 leaf insertions. The table top is made of Georgian mahogany and the bases made in the mid-20th century to compliment. The pictures really do not do the tables colour and grain justice. We have restored this table in our own workshops where we use traditional hand polishing methods, where no lacquers or spraying techniques are used. the table is finished to a soft wax finish.
