Description

An impressive Art Deco oak bed from circa 1930s. The frame is made from lovely aged quarter sawn oak veneer with a very attractive metal bronzed cartouche to the centre of the headboard and footboard depicting a flower design. It has stringing decoration in a small chequered pattern to the footboard and has crossbanding around the edges. It stands on attractive heavily carved and gilt feet. The frame is a Vono frame which is easily assembled or dis-assembled (does not appear to be the original to the bed). Please note there is no base or mattress provided. It is a non-standard sized bed - the metal frame is 5 feet wide by 6 feet 2 inch long (150cm W x 190cm L). Although it is a non-standard size, 150cm x 190cm mattresses are available online from specialist retailers. Construction/Wood: Oak and beech Condition Report: Some small scuffs and marks commensurate with age. A dent to the corner of the footboard.
