Description

This mahogany serpentine writing table dates to the latter part of the 18th century (circa 1775-80) and has been professionally and sympathetically restored. The surface has been wax polished - accentuating its wonderful colour and patina. The oak lined drawers retain period swan neck handles and are probably original to the piece (some gilding remains visible). The escutcheons are original. The locks if not original are early replacements. We have replaced the previous leather writing surface with a hand coloured and tooled hide. The height to the underside of the drawer is 24 inches - perfect distance for comfortable use. 45 inches wide 25 " deep 30 " high Please contact us by email or phone if you require any further details.
