Description

A good Regency mahogany and brass mounted sofa table, the well figured rectangular top with rounded corners to the flaps all with a moulded edge, above two freize drawers with cock beaded edges and brass knob handles; incorporating mahogany drawer linings; the flanks with brass anthemium mounts; standing on elegant shaped end supports featuring a brass mount of two anthemiums with a central rosette; raised on fluted sabre legs and original brass box castors. Good warm, natural faded colour and excellent patina. The table is identical on the reverse with dummy drawers, so it can be used freestanding. The desirable feature of the high stretcher makes this a very elegant sofa table. Good condition English circa 1820 Dimensions (ins) 43½ wide (closed), 63 (open) x 27 deep 28½ high
