Description

A fantastic find, this large late Victorian dish dates to around 1890, clearly very Art Nouveau with its all-round pierced or reticulated decoration. The front has a large vacant presentation shield. Standing on its original four bun feet, the dish frame is made from silver plate with a full mark on the underside for the well renowned quality silversmith, Roberts & Belk of Sheffield. The Bristol Blue glass liner is original and miraculously undamaged. The glass was hand-blown with a ground pontil mark on the underside. Excellent condition, the stand has a footprint measuring 11" across, the glass liner having a rim diameter measuring 9"; the piece standing 5 1/4" tall.
