Description

Antique Victorian Satin Birch Dressing Table and dating from around 1880. Of superb quality this lovely dressing table has an arched shaped mirror set within a satin birch frame and shaped and carved side supports with turned finial to the top. This leads down to full width shelf above two jewellery drawers both of which are mahogany lined with original turned knob handles. The base is moulded to the serpentine shaped edge above a deep cross banded frieze with a central drawer being mahogany lined with turned knob handle. It stands on fabulous cabriole legs with carved acanthus leaf and scrolled feet all joined by a shaped pot board on squat bun feet. The top separates for ease of transporting. Measures: height to top of mirror 64" x table height 30" x 20" deep x 48" wide. In very good original condition with a lovely deep colour and patination and oozing all the charm and character of the period. Our furniture is cleaned and polished using traditional waxing methods.
