Description

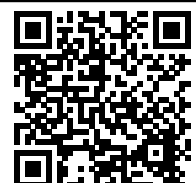

A really pretty and charming perfume or scent bottle in a fabulous rich ruby red colour. This is a slightly more unusual example of a Victorian double ended bottle, this one having a cylindrical form rather than the more often seen faceted type. The lids too are a little more unusual, again made from sterling (unmarked as most of these bottles were not) silver with a pretty floral embossed decoration. One end is hinged, with the little glass stopper intact and the other end is a screw-top with the cork to the inside of the lid to keep the liquid from evaporation. A real beauty in excellent condition, measuring 4 1/2" in length. Item ID: 35739 FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly from London, England
