SoldItem Reference: SA277714*Date of manufacture: 1920

Description

Circa 1920's this pair of silver plated lamps were once candlesticks that have been converted into lamps. With a hexagon shape at the top, middle and base, they are typically early 20th in design. They are excellent quality, the silver plating is over brass, and each is of a decent weight. They have been recently rewired to UK specifications, with new candle tubes added. The height of each with the shade is 36cm; without the shade and to the top of the candle tube is 26cm. The hexagon shaped base is 11cm at the widest point. The buyer is welcome to the shades that we have used for display only, and although they are a little worn in places they look handmade. The price includes the shades and postage and package within the UK mainland only.
