Description

A stunning pair of Victorian entree dishes, beautiful quality and wonderfully decorative, the two things we always look for in these pieces; and rarely find. The top and sides of the lid are beautifully engraved and the top crowned with the most exquisite cast handles. These handles are removable by twisting and removing. This allows the lids to turn over and become two additional open serving dishes. Each has a tiny punched makers initials, hard to identify, dating to around 1850. A really showy pair in excellent condition. 12" x 9" x 6" to top of handle. Item ID: 35713 FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly from London, England
