Description

This is a very well executed oil painting on canvas of Cattle Resting In a Landscape by the artist William Vivian Tippet, who has signed the painting in the lower left hand corner. The painting depicts a group of three cows resting in the shade of a gnarled tree in a large meadow. There are two more cows grazing over by the trees to the left. ABOUT THE ARTIST William Vivian Tippet, 1833-1910, was born in Bristol in 1833, the son of an accountant. He was practicing as an artist by 1861 and living with his parents at 5 Ashley Road Bristol. By 1881, he was living with his second wife Emma and 6 children at 64 Oldbury Court Road, Stapleton, Gloucestershire. By 1891 he was again living in Bristol at 19 Downend Road. He died in Bristol in 1910 aged 77. To quote from Jeremy Wood's excellent book 'Hidden Talents' 'Landscape painter in oil and sometimes watercolour, who lived in Bristol. He was a prolific exhibitor at the Royal West of England Academy, showing 132 works at the Annual Exhibitions 1856-1892, and a further 63 works at the Winter Exhibitions. Most of the subjects were rural landscapes featuring cattle, sheep and horses and also some views of South Wales. He exhi...
