SoldItem Reference: SA288352*Date of manufacture: 1750

Description

George Curzon ADDISS: an impressive and fine quality late 18th century mahogany BRACKET CLOCK in excellent original condition. Surmounted by the cast brass carrying handle, the mahogany case, of excellent colour, features four original gilt finials; applied ormolu mount to the bell top; ormolu spandrels and an inner gilded 'slip' frame to the door and cast brass ogee feet. To the side are the original "fishscale" frets backed by dark green silk. The eight-day movement retains its original verge escapement, striking hours on a bell and repeating hours at will via the pull cord. The dial incorporates the well engraved and silvered chapter rings with "Strike/Silent" in the arch and date aperture above "VI". The signature is engraved to the dial and repeated on the engraved backplate. Full working order and guaranteed for at least two years.  George Curzon ADDIS became a member of the Worshipful Company of Clockmakers in 1780, elected to the Livery from 1787-1799. There is a movement by him in the Guildhall Museum, and a bracket clock by him is illustrated in Cesinsky & Webster.
