Description

A rare set of six silver dessert spoons from the sought after Newcastle Assay Office. These fine spoons are a matching set of six in fiddle pattern. To the front they have an engraved initial 'H'. With so much flatware lost for scrap in the last two years, sets are increasingly difficult to find and the Newcastle Office which produced much less than the mainstream Assay Offices, has always been much in demand. Condition :- Very good with no splits and excellent bowl tips. Two of the spoons have minor dimples, commensurate with age and use. Maker :- John Robertson II & John Walton. (In partnership from 1811 - 1820 when Robertson went bankrupt). Date :- c1815. Hallmarks :- Clear, readable and matching. Date letter not present. Length :- 17.75 cms.
