Antique mathematical instrument, surveyor's set

Price

SoldItem Reference: SA289242*Date of manufacture: 1800

Description

An antique plotting set, probably used by a surveyor, circa 1830. The set comprises an ivory plotting ruler, a brass compass with pencil, and a nib fitting. There is some surface corrosion to the steel parts and also a small screw is missing from the nib fitting. The set comes in its original covered wooden case which is tatty but all commensurate with its age. The overall size of the box is 13cm x 4.5cm x 2cm.
