Description

Here is a superb Welsh cwpwrdd tridarn (three part cupboard) c1690-1710. This very imposing tridarn has a top section with the very desirable wavy sides, fronted by bobbin turned column supports. This is over a two door middle section with elegant drop finials. All above a two door base section, standing on bracket feet. Giving a vast amount of storage space. This wonderful tridarn would have originally been the centre-piece of a farmhouse living room or parlour. Usually made to commemorate a wedding or a new home. To the middle section is a charming carved celtic love knot, which symbolizes unity. The middle section also has the original sword shelf internally. All doors have the original pin hinges. With original brass escutcheons and working locks with keys. The tridarn is profusely carved throughout, with beautiful designs. The colour is wonderful, rich and warm. The overall condition is very good, with general expected signs of age and use. Minor knocks and bumps. Very solid sturdy and strong. Dismantles to three sections. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions about this item. The dimensions are. Height-212-cm. Width-153c...
