Description

A Chippendale style Mahogany Partners' Desk/Library Table. Quality was obviously the maker's watchword when this desk was produced in the 1920s. The drawers (five on each side) are all dovetailed back and front in solid mahogany with mahogany drawer bottoms, cleverly fitted to ensure any shrinkage over time would be compensated for in the construction. It stands on cabriole legs carved with acanthus and ball and claw feet, the edges with finely carved gadrooned edges. The table itself is in superb original condition with no wear to the drawers or runners, and retaining all its original handles. Dimensions: 61" wide x 41" deep x 31" high. If you have any questions about this piece, just call. We promise that there will be no obligation and no pressure, just a genuine desire to answer your query honestly and accurately. E-mail enquiries also welcome. Viewing: Viewing is welcomed anytime Monday to Friday 9am to 5.30pm and other times by appointment. Delivery: Collection is always available and we do offer free local delivery. Please call for delivery options UK and Worldwide.
