Description

For sale is a superb large extending Victorian dining table. The table is in very good condition, with three original leaves, original clips, and original castors. The table is very simple to extend, simply pull the table and, put the leaves in, and close the clips to hold it all in place. The table stands on nicely fluted and carved legs which terminate with their original brass castors. The condition is very good and is ready to go straight into the home. This piece is guaranteed to be a talking piece at dinner parties to come! Dimensions to be added...
