Description

This very attractive COPELAND & GARRETT FOOT BATH dates from around 1840 and is decorated in an unusual 'mosaic' type pattern in the Greek and Roman fashion. It is beautifully shaped and well proportioned. The FOOT BATH bears the COPELAND & GARRETT mark (1833-1847) to the base alongside a painted pattern number 6869. To add to the FOOT BATH'S historical interest, there is a paper label inside which refers to when the Footbath was stored in WWII. It is printed 'Save envelopes - Save paper - Help the War effort'. There is minor grazing to the edges of the handles and an old thin, surface chip to the rim (please see photograph). The thinness of the chip can be seen on the rim in photograph 6. There is minor wear to paint. There are no other cracks, chips or restoration.
