Description

FRANCIS PERIGAL, LONDON: a good quality and small late 18th century MAHOGANY BRACKET CLOCK. The case, of conventional form, is of small size, and features a brass-edged pad top with carrying handle; brass columns edging the front door; cast 'ogee' feet; a good gilded 'slip' frame around the dial and 'fish scale' frets to the side panels. The eight-day movement retains its original verge escapement, striking hours on a bell and repeating hours at will via the pull cord. The original painted dial (completely untouched) features "Strike/Silent" control in the arch; and is signed (Perigal, Coventry Street, London). Original delicate blued steel hands. Perfect working order and guaranteed for at least two years. Just 13.5ins high (excluding the handle) and 9.5ins wide. (34 x 24cms).
