Description

This stunning antique early 19th Century George III bow fronted chest of drawers retaining its original waxed patina. This chest has never been polished and has got a beautiful faded Cuban mahogany colour and patina built up from over 200 years of being waxed. In extremely good condition this bow chest has been very well looked after dating to circa 1810. The bow top frieze having a ebony Inlaid band below which are five graduated cockbeaded oak lined drawers each have a brass lock and round cast brass plated handles with the whole being raised on splay feet. A very handsome chest with a lovely colour and original wax patina finish in showroom condition ready for home use.
