Description

This piece is fabulous quality, with a superb shape & a great look. It could be used as a smallish sideboard or a substantial console side table. I would date it to around the 1910 & it's in good original condition, with a great colour. The wood is a combination of plain mahogany, flame mahogany & plenty of ebony inlays. It has serpentine shaped front & sides, cross banding around the top drawer & end cupboards, plus tapered spade end legs. There are locks on the drawer & cupboards, plus there are good quality original brass handles. Width - 53.5", 136 cm Depth - 22.5", 57 cm Height - 34", 86 cm
