Description

About as good as they get, and a model I have never seen before, the reason will become evident. A grand size, measuring 16 1/2 x 9" x 10 3/4" tall. The box is made from wonderful Burl Walnut with its rich dark Cognac colour with a bright patina and is smothered in the finest quality brass mounts, the two central mounts on the doors are engraved with a very regal original family Armorial Crest. The doors open to reveal a fully fitted interior with the right hand side door fitted with a walnut framed ceramic writing slate; the left-hand door with a memo panel for cards, notes etc. The box retains its original finest quality leather Berry's Patent of London inkwell and vesta. The very special element is the wonderful lift up section to the back where the calendar is which comes up and clicks into place for two large compartments for small books or stationery. The brass supports each side can be released and the back panel then can be stored back into the rear section of the box. Underneath is the drawer which contains the writing slope or lap desk, retrieved by using the flush brass military handle. The back of the slope has a removable pen tray and space for two more...
