Description

A splendid pair of early Victorian glass goblets. The body are of heavy wrythen form with deep ribbing. The plain stems have a bladed collar and the bases have a broken pontil mark (found on early glasses). One glass is overall, slightly larger giving a charming 'his and hers' appeal to the pair. A good usable pair of early glasses, great for wine, beer or spirits. P&P contribution :- £12.00 UK £20.00 Worldwide Condition :- Excellent, with no chips or cracks. Please note that the 'broken' pontil refers to a method of construction and is NOT damage. Origin :- English. Date :- c1840 Height :- 12.5 cms. Diameter :- 8.5 cms.
