Description

A very good quality mid-19th century TUNBRIDGE-WARE TEA CADDY of large size. The gabled lid is veneered in rosewood with profuse "Van Dyke" pattern inlaid around, with matching parquetry to the front, whilst the sides are fitted with finely-turned solid rosewood handles. The lid opens to reveal the original crushed velvet lining inside, and two parquetry lidded tea canisters which flank the cut-glass sugar bowl. It is supported on original compressed bun feet of solid rosewood and it is complete with its delightful matching Tunbridge-ware caddy spoon, in the shape of a saucepan ~ itself very rare.
